ME, THE MOUNTIES & PTSD

When trauma takes its toll, a very private
CBC reporter goes public with his pain.

In LOST ON ARRIVAL: Me, the Mounties & PTSD CBC reporter Curt Petrovich tells the most difficult story of his life: his battle with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder. From running marathons to experimental psychedelic drug treatments, Curt tries everything to get back to the present, back to himself. As a kind of work therapy, he returns to a story that haunts him still and so brings to light the remarkable tale of what happened to the four Mounties responsible for the 2007 taser-related death of Robert Dziekanski at YVR.
